HONGKONG SHARE REPORT.

Another quiet week has to be recorded. Business during the period under review has been practically at a standstill and the market generally closes with a downward tendency. The only change of importance requiring special reference has occurred in Hongkong and Whampon Docks which show n big decline owing to the disappointment; of the shareholders who had formed expectations of a higher dividend.

Banks.--Hongkong and Shanghai Banks have ruled quiet throughout the week, and are unchanged with sellers at 8610. The London quotation is £63. Nationals are offering at $27.

Marine Insurances .- Unions have advanced to $390, at which rate shares are in 2129 demand. China Tradors are steady at $57. Cantons keep firm with buyers at $160.

Fire Insurances .- Hongkong Fires are still obtainable at $330. China Fires

Shipping.—Hongkong, Canton and Macan Steamboats have been fixed at $37½ ox the dividend of $13 paid on the 6th instant Indo-Chinas are easier and have changed hands at $88. Sales of Shell Transports at £1,12,6 are reported. Other stocks un-1645 der this head are without business and

Through twelve generations then, Britain has stretched her dominions round the world. She has grown not in territory. wealth and education only, but has acquiral something of a national conscience and is dimly aware of a great mission. If ever Cod has spoken clearly to a nation, has He not spoken to us? If ever God elected a people, called it by namound set it apart for the service of man and of God, He surely has chosen Britain, this greater Britain. The growth of this Empire is not a matter for pride or self-gloritication but rather for thanksgiving and heart-searching. God has made this Empire. Why did He make it Not for itself. Not for emcliment merely, Whenever an Empire has set itself chiefly to draw revenue from the circumference to the centre, it has sealed its own doon. God's elections are not elections to privilege only but a lso to service. He chose Jacob and rejected Esan because Jacob would do what Esan wouldnot. Herejected that great Portugal of the 15th century, that greater Spain of the 16" and 17th centuries, that brilliant France the 18th century, and He chose the little lands set in the silver sea. Britain He chose to be a great Empire that should clasp the world, not for Britain's sake, but for the good of the world. Power and/duty, privilege and responsibilty are linked together in the progressive prosperity of men, nations and Empires.

Britain has been among the foremost to learn Freedom. It is her privilege to extend it. With many halls and stumbles. she has come to recognize that the nation is not composed of a governing class with a mass to govern, but that men, women and children as such have inhom rights of their own, and stand in close relation to God. What God has taught us. He has elected us to teach. Our contained freedom i ours to set other people free. 'Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty. Britain has usually tried to combine Fair ness with Freedom. Here too is a con tinuous call. In our inflored life there have grown up certain virtues which have become sturdier than in many other nations- a humanity which will spend millions to correct the redgmit of slavery sincerity which treats the word as a bond regreed love of right which endeavours to do justly and to love acrey. These growths are ours to see that cuttings are rooted in every soil over which floats the British flag. Britain has also learnt faith: it is hers to teach. SERVICE IN ROMAN CATHOLIC CATHEDRIL.

A special service was held in the St. .Joseph's Cathedral at 10.30 a.m. Saturday. There was a large congregation, among those present being the Consul-General for Portugal and Consul for Brazil. Conselheiro Romano, and Mrs Romano; the Consul-General for Italy, Chevalier Z Volpicelli, and Madame Volpicelli; M. R. Rean, the Acting-Consul for France, the Consuls for Belgium and Peru, and the Vice-Consul for Brazil, Mr J. J. Leiria, and Mrs Leiria; Deputy Inspector-General Drew, R.N., Major Whitty, R.A.M.C., Captain Radeliffe, R. E. Captain Sexton, Lieutenant Langton, &c. On arrival, the invited guests were received by the Revs. G. Spada and Augustine, who conducted them to their respective Bents.

In the unavoidable and regrettable absence of Bishop Piazzoli, who was to have conducted the service, the Rev. P. de Maria, the pro-vicar questolic, officiated. The service was grandly impressive, the CVIL, a special hymn, Psalm CV, and the clouds gave the only indication of sproachniusical portion having best refully premered under the superintendence of Mr Dmil Danenberg, who conducted the choir Royal Family, the hymn 'Yegdal,' th and otchestra, Mr O. THE PARSER SERVICE.

At half-past eight o'clock on Saturday morning, the Parsee community, presided over by Mr H. N. Mosly, attended a special prayer called Jusan. The service lasted over an hour, the priest of the community, Mr Sorabjee Katrak, conducting the ceremony in a solemnlyimpressive manner.

The following is a translation of the speech made by Mr Moly :- You are well awate that in June last British subjects all over the world had to postpone with heavy heads and profound sorrow the celebration of a most important event in the annals of British history, cit., the Coronation of our beloved King Emperor Edward VII, owing to his serious illness. In that occasion we hadall assembled in this hall so offer our is now restored to health, and is celebrat. inglis Coronation to-day.
